DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The applicant's amendment filed on 08/09/2007 has been fully considered and made of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3 and 5-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by Morganti et al. (US 6,728,506) or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Morganti et al. in view of Boelkins (US 5,690,738).

As applied to claims 1-3, and 6, Morganti et al. teach a roller assembly, comprising:

an oiling roller (31, Figs. 9 and 10);
a roller shaft (nose section 62 and bearing surface 147 of journals 60 and 60a, Figs. 9 and 10) about which the oiling roller rotates; and at least one cap unit (journal 60, Fig. 9) including a substantially identical pair of caps (journal 60 and 60a, Figs. 9 and 10) disposed on an end face of the roller shaft, and wherein the at least one cap further comprises a flange portion (flange portion 149 of journal 60, Fig. 9) at an end of the cap that comes into contact with the oiling roller, and a recess portion (145, Fig. 9) at an opposite end of cap wherein the oiling roller has a porous formed body made of compressible material (felt or the like, col. 1, lines 34-37).

In alternative, if the Applicant does not agree that the "felt" material disclosed by Morganti et al. is a porous body made of compressible material, Boelkins teaches a roller assembly wherein an oiling roller (12) includes a porous and compressible felt cover (54, Fig. 7) in order to facilitate the overall uniformity and controlled dispersion of the liquid (col. 8, lines 18-24).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of invention, to have provided Morganti et al. with a porous, compressible felt material as taught by Boelkins in order to provide a suitable roller with an effective and uniform means of releasing oil.

As applied to claim 5, Morganti et al. teach a retainer (ribs 150 and 151, Figs. 9 and 10) disposed onto the end of the roller shaft (68, Fig. 4).

Regarding the limitation the cap "can" be squeezed, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 and 5-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
5. Applicant's amendments to the specification and title are accepted.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
